It's Vacation Time For C. of C. After Busy Winter, Spring

A large group attended the last regular meeting of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce Monday evening at Smart's Country House.

Meetings through the summer months of June, July, and August will be dispensed with owing to the rush of business, but will be resumed in September.

The Board of Directors will meet regularly, and should a general meeting be deemed necessary it will be called.

During the past year much was accomplished by the organization toward making Antioch a better community. Future efforts will be continued along this line.

The chamber will give its assistance in making the Fourth of July celebration a successful event.

Keeping Streets Clean 'A Job, Says Ehnert

It's a real job to keep the Antioch streets clean.

This was the confession of Emil Ehnert, street superintendent who says he has taken 20 tons of dirt from the streets so far this spring.

"An hour after I've swept a street it looks like it has never been swept," Ehnert complained in his report to the Village Board Tuesday night.

The superintendent got up at 4 a. m. some mornings and swept the streets, and still found cars parked in the way at that hour.

Streets in the residential area will be swept at least once a week and down town more often.

Ehnert has filled in all of the big holes of the village streets with blacktop.

Sequoits Beat Rams, But Lose to Palatine; Play Wauconda, Elmhurst

Antioch High today is playing Wauconda High there in baseball, weather permitting, and will play Elmhurst tomorrow after having split victories with Grayslake and Palatine.

The Sequoits won from Grayslake there Friday 8 to 7 and lost to Palatine Monday 14 to 2.

Pyles held the Grayslake Rams well in hand during the first five innings while his teammates were giving him a 6-run advantage, then the Rams began an onslaught, taking advantage of Sequoits misplays and nearly took the game away from the local team.

Lonnie Christiansen, Antioch shortstop, got two three-base hits which pushed three runners across the plate ahead of him. He also scored two runs.

Palatine won its game Monday in a big first inning in which the Pirates scored nine runs. Pyles, Antioch pitcher served "gofer" balls to the first three batters up, all three smashing the first ball for home runs. Wisner, the Pirate shortstop got three home runs and batted in six runs. Tegan, Biedrzycki and Coates of Palatine also got home runs.

Christiansen relieved Pyles and pitched a creditable game through the last 5 2/3 innings.

She received a total of 12 ribbons. She also received a special award for the most red ribbons, and another special award for a novelty container.

Oakwood Knolls Asks Sewers, Street Lights and Speed Limit Signs

Village Bd. to Study These Problems When Committees Are Chosen

Oakwood Knolls is having its sewage problems, and an appeal was made to the Village Board Tuesday evening for any aid it can get in solving them.

George Kellogg, Ray Nelson and Harry Brehen of the Oakwoods Knolls Association appeared before the board with the statement that a health hazard exists—that sewage is bubbling from the ground at two lots.

Cause of the failure of the septic tanks to operate according to Trustee E. H. Glenn is the clay soil which when once saturated, will accept no more.

Mayor Murrill Cunningham informed the Oakwood Knolls representatives that the matter will be referred to the proper committee after committee appointments are made at the next meeting.

Kellogg asked for street lights in the subdivision and he was informed that this too will be referred to committee which will ask for an association member to meet with it and a representative of the Northern Illinois Gas and Electric Co. to study needs and costs. He was told that easements would be necessary where power lines are back of lots to bring lines to the streets. The association was told to study its needs and make requests on that basis, too. The board frowned on lights where the buildings are few.

Mayor Cunningham delegated Trustees John Blackman and Geo. Garland to procure speed limit signs for the Oakwood Knolls area as requested by the three delegates.

$100 Bass Caught at Channel Lake By Berwyn Man

Oscar, the $1,000 prize northern pike and Fannie, the $500 bass are still eluding the fishermen in the Chain of Lakes area, but some of the tagged fish bearing lesser prizes have been caught.

William Morano, 1312 S. Maple ave., Berwyn caught a 3 1/2 pound bass that carried with it a $100 prize. He was fishing in Channel Lake with a fly rod and reel when he hooked the bass.

A half dozen crappies and bluegills bearing numbers for $10 prizes have been caught.

Jacob Kaluf, 87, Dies of Heart Attack

Jacob Kaluf, 87, Millburn, died Sunday, May 5 at 4:15 p. m. at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frank Edwards, suddenly of a heart attack. He was born March 2, 1870 in Isle Texel, Netherlands. He came to America 23 years ago, settling in Munster, Indiana. He came to Millburn in 1908.

He was united in marriage to Miss Anna Blink, September 7, 1893, at Crown Point, Ind. He was a member of Millburn Congregational church and of the Antioch Modern Woodman Lodge. He was a retired farmer.

Survivors are his wife Anna, a daughter, Corena Edwards, and a son, Colonel John Kaluf of Washington, D. C., three grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 1:30 Wednesday at the Strang Funeral home. The Rev. L. H. Messersmith of the Millburn church officiated. Interment was in Hickory Union cemetery.

Summer Home Damaged By Grass Fire Tuesday

Damage estimated at $300 was done to the porch of the summer cottage of John Grandland at Woodbine ave., Channel Lake about 5:20 p.m. Tuesday.

The fire started in some grass and had ignited the building when the Antioch fire department arrived, according to Fire Chief Edgar Simonsen. The damage was limited to one corner of the porch.

Earlier in the day the firemen extinguished a grass fire at the Hennings property on the west shore of Antioch lake.

A grass fire claimed the attention of the firemen at Lystlund's resort on Grass lake Sunday.

Enough Grandparents To Really Spoil Them

David, 2, and Mike, 5-months, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Don Holum of RFD 2, Lake Villa, would have a difficult time spreading their attention if all of the living ancestors should gather with them at one time.

No fewer than 11 of the 12 grandparents and great grandparents are living. They are on the mother's side the grandparents, Postmaster and Mrs. Roy Kufalk, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Runyard of Antioch, and Mrs. Minnie Kufalk of Zion, and on the father's side, the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Holum of Lake Villa, and the great grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Speck, and Mr. and Mrs. Oren Holum of South Bend, Ind.

Trustee and Committee Appointments Delayed By Village Authorities

New Board Member to Be Chosen by Next Meeting, As Will Committees

The new Village Board started off with a busy session Tuesday night, but had to delay some of the business until Mayor Murrill Cunningham can appoint his committees.

Committee appointments cannot be made until a trustee can be appointed to fill the unexpired term of Cunningham who resigned to become president of the Board.

While the trustees and Mayor Cunningham discussed the matter of the appointment no action was taken and the whole matter will be left to the next meeting.

Bernard Osmond, newly-elected trustee was quite active in the discussions which as usual involved sewers, water and building.

The board now comprises Edmund Vos, Osmond, Ernest H. Glen, John Blackman and George F. Garland. Indications are that there will be few if any changes in the appointive officers.

Charles Cermak, defeated candidate for board president, attended the meeting, congratulated Cunningham of his successful race, and then suggested that the Board appoint a committee to deal with the allotting and regulation of insurance.

Cermak cited this practice as followed by the school boards and the Moose lodge.

The Board, however, followed the usual procedure of advertising for bids on supplying the insurance.

Because the village has but one person instead of two permitted to tap village mains, Eugene Diemer, a contractor, was given permission to tap a sewer. He has worked for Delaney, who held a permit, but no longer has use for it. Irving Carey holds the other permit.

Bids for Lake Villa's New Sewage System Far Over the Estimate

The village of Lake Villa was given disheartening news this week when bids for the proposed new sewage disposal system were twice the amount of the expected cost.

The low on the bids was $327,489.70 and the estimate of the engineer earlier last year was $212,400.

The village was granted $30,420 by the federal government, but it will be far from sufficient to pay for the sewage disposal plant as expected.

The apparent low bidder was Ciccone Bros. of Chicago.

Because of the rolling nature of the land and the uncertainty of the soil the bidders apparently disliked to take chances and placed their bids high enough.

The bids have been referred to Engineer James Anderson of Lake Forest for study.

Anderson said that while his estimate was a year old and costs have gone up, the bids nevertheless were too high.

American Red Cross Annual Dinner Monday; Antioch Misses Goal

Whether you contributed a dime or time, you are invited to attend the annual dinner meeting of the Lake County Chapter of the American Red Cross on Monday, May 13, in the Moraine-on-the-Lake Hotel, Highland Park.

The 6 to 6:30 p. m. reception is in charge of Mrs. Irl H. Marshall of Deerfield. The 6:30 p. m. dinner is in charge of Mrs. William H. Arnold of Ft. Sheridan.

Chapter Chairman William J. Wuestenfeld of Waukegan said that this dinner meeting promises to be one of the most interesting ever held by the Red Cross in Lake county.

W. C. Lucey, executive director of the Chicago chapter, will speak of the responsibilities of the Red Cross. Election of officers will be held and the work of the chapter reviewed.

Antioch township has contributed $713 toward a goal of $1,470, with an estimate of a final total of $918. Newport figures are $249 toward $525, estimated total $349.

A 40% Tax

A leaflet issued by Gulf Oil Co. says: "How many miles was your automobile driven last year—5,000—10,000—15,000 miles?"

"Statisticians tell us that the average mileage of U. S. passenger automobiles in 1956 was approximately 9,300 miles. In the process, 640 gallons of gasoline were consumed, for which 8.35c per gallon was paid in federal and state gasoline taxes.

"This means Mr. and Mrs. Average Motorist paid $53.44 last year in direct taxes levied on motor fuel. (The total will be even more this year because of a one cent per gallon increase in Federal tax which became effective last July.)

There are few other widely used commodities on which taxes equal about 40 per cent of the purchase price, as gasoline taxes do.

From 1925 to the present—even including the most recent price increase—the consumer's cost of gasoline, exclusive of taxes, has increased only 15½ per cent.

"This compares with an increase of some 67 per cent in the selling price of clothing; more than 62 per cent in household furnishings; 71 per cent in food.

"And unlike various other products which have not been materially increased in quality, today's gasoline has been steadily improved in every respect.

"So next time you ask the attendant to 'fill it up', remember this: 'The real price you pay per gallon—that is the price exclusive of taxes—still represents one of the best bargains on your family shopping list.'"

A Good Precedent

A retail association has summed up, in clear and simple terms, some of the best-founded objections to the proposal that the federal minimum wage laws be extended to the larger retail stores of the nation. All retailers, along with the various other service industries, have been exempt ever since these laws came into being.

First, it is inevitable that, if the laws are now applied to one major segment of the retail industry, it will be just a matter of time until they are extended to all retailers.

Second, application of the laws to the larger stores would require smaller retailers competing for the same type of labor to meet the federal rates. This is contrary to the sound, long-established custom of permitting local conditions to control wages in what is an essentially local industry.

Third, unemployment would increase for those least able to find employment as retailers would be forced to tighten up marginal areas of operation.

Fourth, consumers would find higher prices when they went to the stores, and this would add to current inflationary pressures.

All the evidence supports these contentions. They indicate why past Congress after past Congress has refused to extend the laws to retailing. In doing that, the Congresses established a sound precedent that should be maintained.

Medicine and Religion

Eleven years ago all patients at Bellevue Hospital in New York had to be seen by a minister. This recognition of the importance of religion by a hospital was then termed unique.

Today the once-unique has become the commonplace. Of the 7,000 hospitals in the United States, 1,100 have some religious affiliation and most have available the services of ministers of three major faiths.

This change is cited in an article and editorial appearing in the Journal of the American Medical Association. The point is that American medicine and religion are in closer accord today than in any period in modern times.

Why should this be so? The editorial suggests an answer: That the individual is re-emerging from "part of the mass" status which came with mechanization and specialization of society and, helped by the increase in leisure time that has resulted from the decline in working time, "wants to know more and more about himself and how he relates to all men and all things of all times."

Whatever the causes, medicine and religion seem to be on the threshold of a "unified field theory" of faith and health. Clergymen are developing a greater interest in medicine, especially as it applies to mental health. In some cases theological students are given training in ministering to the sick, while medical students are offered elective courses in religion to help them learn about the resources the church can offer them in their practice.

This is opening up great new frontiers of service to mankind. Its implications were well expressed by a professor at the Cornell University Medical College who said: "Very often we do not know what it is that brings about the recovery of a patient. I am sure that often it is faith which is a most important factor."

A Legal Battle Ends

The long legal battle over hydroelectric development of the Hells Canyon reach of the Snake River has ended. The final act came from the U. S. Supreme Court when it refused to interfere with the Federal Power Commission decision authorizing development by a private power company. It thus upheld the legality of that decision.

The Hells Canyon fight was over a clear-cut fundamental issue—whether the federal government or taxpaying private enterprise should develop the power. The FPC conducted an unusually comprehensive hearing on the arguments of both sides, extending over a year of time. Then it approved the application of the private power company in question. Subsequently, the socialized power groups used every conceivable blockading tactic to get the FPC overruled and to prevent private development—even though the power is urgently needed in the region, and the FPC's inquiry fully developed the fact that this is the way to get that power most economically and most expeditiously, and without cost to the taxpayers.

Now the socializers and bockaders have but one hope left—Congressional authorization of the federal dam. They will press hard for this. But, according to authoritative observers, this is a dim hope. There is small chance of Congress taking such an action and, even if it did, a Presidential veto would be likely.

Actually, if Congress did overrule the FPC and approve a federal dam, the next logical action would be to abolish the FPC and all other comparable administrative agencies. For Congress would be saying, in effect, that the decisions of such agencies were without validity or standing—and no one could put faith in those decisions.

At any rate, let's hope that taxpaying publicly regulated private development at Hells Canyon can now go ahead—and that taxpaying voluntary development of needed power by private citizens everywhere else is allowed to do the same thing.

Villa park on Cedar ave. Boys from Lake Villa Grade school and Allendale school participated in it. George May of Lake Villa school was a winner, also Joe Gates of Allendale. He was the champion winner in all the Lake Villa area, and received a medal. Saturday, May 5, he entered the tournament at St. Charles for the District and defeated five opponents in five different games. Friday, May 15, he will go to DuQuoin, Ill., to enter the state finals. Details of final results will appear in this paper later. Many other boys also entered the contest and did a wonderful job.

Allendale also had winners in Classes 1, 2, and 3, as did Lake Villa school. The VFW post will sponsor an Americanism Essay with Allendale and Lake Villa schools participating. The Post will present a medal to the winner and a plaque will be presented to the school which the winner will keep for a year.

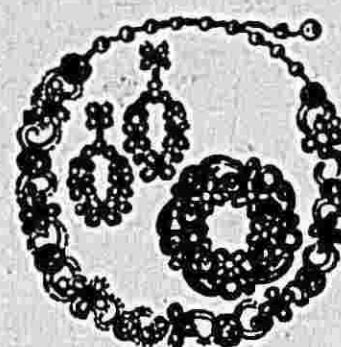

The next regular meeting of the Royal Neighbors of Camp 460 will be Tuesday, May 14, at the village hall.

The Officers club of the Royal Neighbors will meet Wednesday, May 15 at 12:30 at the home of Irene Brown at Grass Lake.

The dance sponsored by the VFW Saturday night was a huge success. Mrs. Jim Pinkos of Burnett Ave. was chosen as queen. She was crowned and received many beautiful gifts, a bouquet of roses, and had her picture taken.

Nebuchadnezzar Might Have Been Bit Overrated

PHILADELPHIA—History may have overrated King Nebuchadnezzar of New Babylon. He is generally regarded as one of the ancient masters of pillage and war—but he also knew stalemate, defeat and rebellion.

Nebuchadnezzar may not have been as invincible as we think, J. Philip Hyatt suggests in the Journal of Biblical Literature. Though he was beyond doubt both an able general and a war-loving king, Nebuchadnezzar must have had a harder time of it than scholars have assumed.

Hyatt, professor of Old Testament at Vanderbilt University, bases this revised estimate on a newly available set of Babylonian records. For years, five cuneiform tablets lay in the British Museum, receiving little careful study. In 1956, four of the five were published by J. D. Wiseman.

The tablets have thrown "a great flood of new light" on the reign of King Nebuchadnezzar (605-561 B. C.) and the last days of Judah, Hyatt declares. With gaps, the tablets cover the period 627-555 B. C.

Nebuchadnezzar was once actually defeated by the Egyptians, or at least fought to a standstill. In 601 Nebuchadnezzar took his forces southward toward Egypt. As Hyatt translates, "The King of Egypt mustered his army in open battle they inflicted great destruction upon one another... the king of Akkad (Nebuchadnezzar) and his army turned around, and went back to Babylon."

Suggests Treating Addicts Medically

SAN FRANCISCO—Narcotic addiction should be treated medically rather than punitively, according to Dr. Karl M. Bowman, professor of psychiatry, emeritus, at the University of California Medical Center here.

While illegal selling of narcotics should be vigorously prosecuted, addiction in itself should be regarded as a medical problem and not a crime, Dr. Bowman recently told the American Psychopathological Association. He praised the British system of narcotic control, under which addicts are encouraged to seek medical treatment, and where if their physicians deem it necessary, are given prescriptions for sustaining doses of narcotics.

Opium derivatives and their synthetic substitutes do not produce criminal behavior, the psychiatrist said; rather, they quiet addict and suppress aggressive and sexual impulses. Addicts may, however, commit crimes to obtain drugs. Such crimes, as well as the illicit narcotic trade itself, could be largely discouraged by overhauling the narcotic control laws, Dr. Bowman believes. "It now seems time," he said, "to turn to the medical approach as it is being used for alcoholism."

Code System for Doctor's Diagnosis

CHICAGO—You may think you have poison ivy and your doctor may even tell you that you do, but when he records his diagnosis, he will call it "dermatitis venenosa."

What you call "athlete's foot" he'll call "dermatophytosis." And his secretary will simply file it as "112-211."

This may look like a method for confusing the patient and making a mystery of something simple, but it isn't. The patient isn't the only one who has been confused by terminology; so have the doctors. Calling athlete's foot "112-211" is one result of years of effort to give them a common language.

It's called the Standard Nomenclature of Disease and Operations, now used by more than 85 per cent of American hospitals, and in wide foreign distribution.

Things to Know in Book of Superlatives

NEW YORK—In case it slipped your memory the largest drum in the world measures over 25 feet in circumference and is towed by a tractor, and the oldest bell in the world is reported to be some 3,000 years old. And the best selling songs are "Till We Meet Again" and "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" and the people of the United Kingdom go to the movies more often than the fans in any other country. These and thousands of other facts are found in "The Guinness Book of Superlatives" which has sold over 150,000 copies in the United Kingdom.

Albert L. Kraus of the New York Times describes our changing nation in these words: "In grandfather's day, the typical American consumer paid rent for a flat, rode to work in a streetcar, sent his starched collars to a laundry and for entertainment took his wife to a vaudeville theatre occasionally. Today he owns a house in the suburbs, drives an automobile to work, gives his wife no-iron shirts to process in an automatic washer-dryer, and watches television for entertainment—all largely because of consumer credit."

In the United States, one among every four Americans is a member of the Red Cross. Throughout the world, 1 among every 25 persons is a member of Red Cross.

"It is by presence of mind in untried emergencies that the native metal of a man is tested."—James Russell Lowell.

FORTY THOUSAND FUNERALS

will result from traffic accidents this year... will yours be one of them?

Sudden death will strike over 40,000 men, women and children in traffic accidents in 1956, unless all of us do something about it!

Here's How You Can Help Stop Traffic Tragedies

1. Drive safely and courteously yourself. Watch traffic and pedestrians carefully. Observe speed limits and warning-signs. Where drivers stay alert and obey the law, deaths go DOWN!
2. Insist on strict enforcement of all traffic laws in your community. Traffic regulations work for you, not against you. Wherever traffic laws are strictly enforced, deaths go DOWN!

SILENCE IS GOLDEN

Quiet operation is the No. 1 feature most homemakers desire in an automatic dishwasher, according to a recent national survey. Above, homemaker conducts a normal voice-level conversation using a phone atop her dishwasher while the appliance is in use. The survey by Waste King Corporation, Los Angeles, also showed that the ladies want their dishwashers to blend with the over-all kitchen decor. The result—creation of a versatile front which can be easily replaced by panels of natural wood, metal in a choice of colors, copper, or stainless steel.

OUT ON A LIMB

By Stumpy McCulloch

Fellow up the way a bit is real handy fixin' gadgets and gimmicks and things. Used to be popular, too. But he isn't anymore. Just a little thing, too. He fixed up his lawn mower with a coin device so that it takes a quarter to run it.

If you're thinking about retiring some of your land to permanent forest, one of your first problems will be how to select the land; leastways if you're like most of the fellows I know.

Well, sir, there are a few simple rules to follow which will help make the decisions for you. First off, if the land is so steep as to make it difficult to till and encourages washing away of the top soil, plant trees. Forest will protect the soil.

If your soil is rocky, sandy or has heavy clay content, it probably won't even make good crop land or pasture. Retire such land to forest. Even if the soil will support crops or pasture, but at too high a cost, it makes more sense to plant trees.

Had myself a good chuckle the other day. I got a letter from this fellow down South who has a good-sized woodlot on his farm. Seems he uses his chain saw with the brush cutting attachment to cut brush for his goats.

Well, sir, the goats have gotten so used to the sound of the saw that every time they hear it they come a'runnin'. This kind a tickled the fellow and he talked it up around the neighborhood.

Next thing you know the chain saw distributor gets a letter from a magazine called the "Sheep and Goat Raiser", asking for an advertisement "cause no goat and sheep farmer ought to be without one of them chain saws. That's what I call being alert.

Talk about being alert and all that I read where a real sharp logging company up in Boise, Idaho, put in a brand new idea: a mobile logging camp on wheels.

Seems they bought six big trailers consisting of bunkhouses, shower houses, cookhouses and shops. Each bunkhouse has five bunks; each unit is 28 feet long. Thirty men can be housed in the camp.

Sure makes me proud of forestry—it turns out some mighty fine products and some mighty fine thinkin'.

A bachelor, my friends, is a man who can pull on his socks from either end.

So long! See you next week!

Cause me to hear Thy loving-kindness in the morning; for in Thee do I trust: cause me to know the way wherein I should walk, for I lift up my soul unto Thee.—(Psalm 143, 8.)

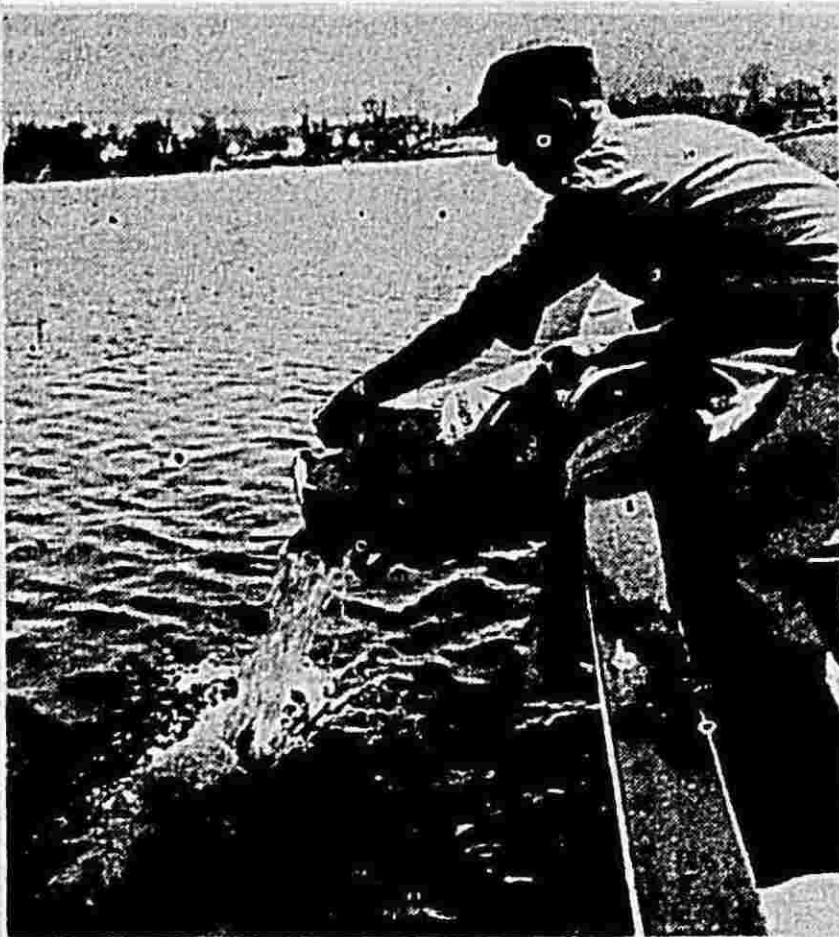

Those who begin each day by thanking God for His love and His blessings and for a new opportunity to serve Him by loving and helping others, will find joy and strength abundant; obedient to His will, they are guided into righteousness.

Costumes of Past 100 Years Modeled During Band Fiesta

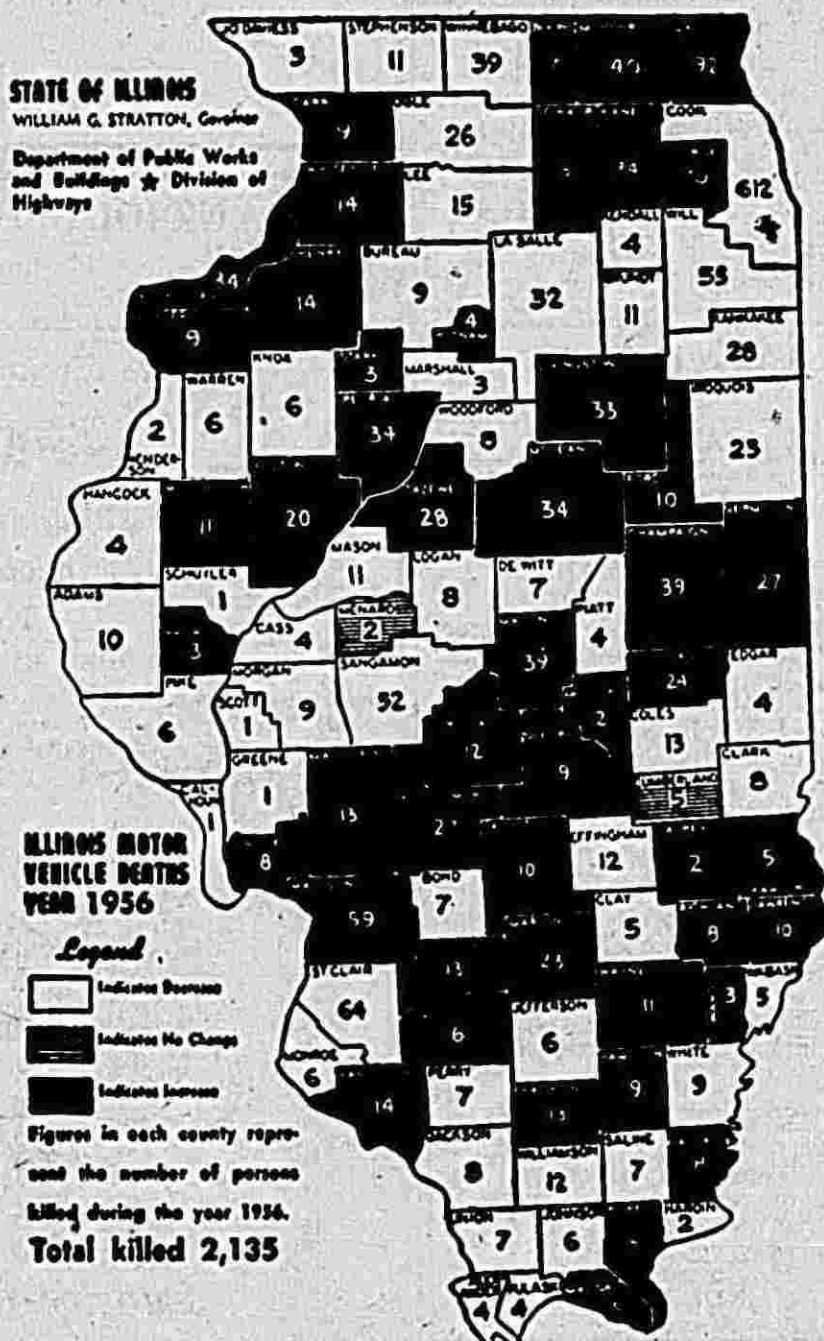

The grand finale of the Antique Style Show presented last Saturday at the grade school in conjunction with the Band Fiesta is shown as costumes dating from the founding of the school more than 100 years ago to modern times were modeled in a pageant manner.

Foxy Fishathon Contest Fish Released

Vern Blust of Lake Villa, employed at the Spring Grove State Fish Hatchery, is shown releasing tagged fish in the waters of the lakes in the Antioch and Fox Lake areas. The tagged fish will bring the ones who catch them prizes in cash or merchandise from $10 to $1,000.

Governor William G. Stratton has urged the Illinois General Assembly to enact legislation to limit the speed of passenger automobiles and buses to 65 miles per hour by day and 55 miles an hour at night in the hope that it will reduce traffic accidents.

The above map shows the distribution by counties of motor vehicle accident fatalities in 1956. Although the state showed a decrease of 3% in motor fatalities during the year as compared with 1955, nearly half of the counties marked up fatality increases in 1956.

Precious Poppies

There is a bond among those of us who have loved ones who fought and died for our beloved country. They had finished their work here and have gone on to something greater. They left so much to all of us—their strength of character, their honesty and determination, their courage and undying love. We must make their sacrifice mean something in the lives we live. One of the ways to help the boys who did come back and are still hospitalized is by wearing a poppy on Poppy Day.

HARRISON BROWN CHOSEN MEN'S CLUB PRESIDENT

Harrison Brown was chosen as president of the Men's club of the Methodist church at the final dinner meeting of the season Monday evening. Others chosen were Elmo Edwards, vice president; John Hardisty, secretary; and Sigurd Nielsen, treasurer. Tom Moran, state's attorney of Lake County, presented the program in which he listed the duties and divisions of his office.

The Poppy

A simple flower, 'tis true,
But more—
A symbol of that sacrifice
Which made and kept us free.

And so,
Lest memory dim with time
We wear
A Poppy for Remembrance.

THE WEEKLY NEWSPAPER
IS THE LIFE OF ANY VILLAGE

Can you imagine what Antioch would be like without a newspaper?

No way of learning about important happenings; no place to publish your wants, your legal notices or advertising, your news about clubs, civic organizations, sports, and detailed information in general.

Weekly newspapers are the most important media of news dissemination for small communities. They are institutions without which communities lose their individuality.

Read the Antioch News—subscribe for it by the year and it will pay for itself many times over through information giving financial advantages let alone the entertainment of general news.

A Community without a newspaper

HEALTH TALK

Health Fallacies

The gullibility of the public in matters of superstitions, particularly about health, is proved by the "old wives tales" that are still handed down by tradition, even though the present generation is better educated and better informed, the Educational Committee of the Illinois State Medical Society observes in Health Talk.

The advent of a new baby into a family is the basis for many such superstitions. The appearance of a "birthmark" on the child is erroneously charged to the parents, rather than to a faulty development. Even though very few persons have bowlegs today, there are those who still attribute this characteristic to the fact that the child walked too soon. Instead of realizing that medical science has overcome rickets and other conditions which caused bowlegs. Teething is said to be a cause of infection. This is wrong. Teething will cause fretfulness and crossness, but infection is caused by bacteria or a virus.

According to some persons the best way to remove a cinder from the eye is to rub the other eye; others think that blowing the nose on the side concerned will help. If a foreign object lodges in the eye, it must be removed manually and very often with an instrument; however, in many instances the tearing of the eye, produced by the irritation, will eject the cinder or the foreign object.

One popular fallacy is that grinding of the teeth while sleeping indicates the presence of worms. Actually this is a nervous habit associated with restlessness.

The sure and quick stopping of nosebleeds has produced many popular methods and procedures which are false. For example, some believe that pressing the upper lip, or placing ice on the neck will produce the desired effect. Most nosebleeds will stop by themselves, but the presence of one indicates that something is wrong and should be investigated by a physician.

Many people believe that sleeping on the left side is damaging to the heart. Since the ribs, muscles and fibrous tissues of the chest protect the heart, it is all right to sleep in any position you find pleasant.

And then there are the people who believe that certain machines and gadgets with various vibrations and currents will cure anything from ingrown toenails to cancer and rheumatism. The flickering lights in varying colors are the yardstick for the degree of improvement. This misconception is a tragic one for the victims, for it lets disease develop into advanced stages and benefits no one but the promoter of the scheme.

These are a few of the silly superstitions about health. Unfortunately there are many more, such as seeds causing appendicitis, the wearing of metal rings to cure golfer and rheumatism and the following of certain food fads to live a long life, free of disease.

Disease is not a trifling matter and good health is one of the most prized possessions of every human being. Everyone should have a physical examination regularly to see that the body machine is functioning normally and if something is wrong to have it corrected. Use common sense and discard false notions and superstitions. The myths of the "old wives tales" and witchcraft are exploded in sound medical and scientific reasoning and fact.

A letter writer to the Wall Street Journal says: "The new Horatio Alger stories will read like this: 'So Tom Fairweather answered all the quiz questions correctly, collected $100,000 and gave $85,000 of it to his Uncle Sam.'"

Posture Important Not Only to Good Appearance

Asking that "special emphasis be given to the importance of proper posture as a factor in good appearance, health and physical efficiency," Governor William G. Stratton proclaimed the week of May 1-7, to be Correct Posture Week and called upon citizens to make "an appropriate observance of this period." The week is sponsored annually by the entire chiropractic profession in the state and nation.

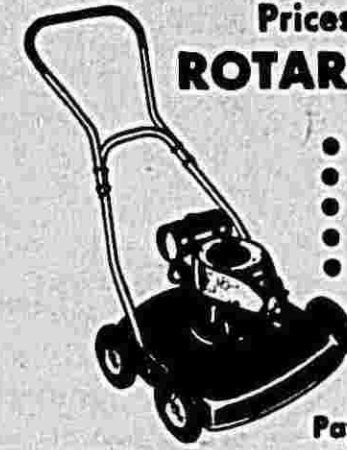

The combined groups represent some 25,000 doctors, whose services are made available to more than 35 million patients throughout the country. Dr. Martin B. Stone, president of the Illinois Chiropractic Society, stressing the significance of correct posture said:

"Bad posture usually begins in childhood, because parents believe Junior's slouch was ugly but harmless. They were wrong, because if there is any interference in the main trunkline—the spine—through which all the nerves pass, the supply of nerve force which activates every part of the body, is impaired and cannot function normally. The chiropractic profession urges parents to watch their children's posture very closely."

Keep Records of Income And Expense 3 Years, Revenue Service Says

A reminder to Federal income taxpayers to retain their copies of returns filed in the recently closed tax filing period was issued today by District Director H. Alan Long of the Chicago office of the Internal Revenue Service. Records of income and expense used in preparation of the return also should be kept, he said.

"Tax records must be retained for at least three years from the deadline date, April 15," Mr. Long said. "There is always the possibility that a taxpayer may be called upon to furnish proof of his income and deductions. Keeping copies of returns and records will help both him and the Revenue Service in such cases."

"Beyond this requirement, taxpayers should find that retention of their copies of returns will help them in filing next year, especially if there is no major change in their financial status. In addition, the Revenue Service urges that all records of 1957 expenditures—cancelled checks, receipts, notations of contributions, state and local taxes, interest payments and other deductible items—be retained for reference in computing 1957 Federal returns."

Mr. Long pointed out that district and local offices of the Revenue Service are glad to provide information throughout the year, preferably by telephone.

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

Facing The Chair

Years ago, a Boston court ruled that a tooth was worth $1,000. On that basis, your teeth are valued at $32,000—if you still have them all.

Yet many people let these valuable assets fall into a dangerous state of decay because they can't bear the thought of dentist drills and extractions. In a few extreme cases, patients have actually become sick when they entered their dentist's office. Children are perhaps the worst offenders, often turning into unruly monsters as soon as they're asked to open their mouths.

One effective way dentists can get around the problem is to use Atarax, a tranquilizer syrup given 15 minutes before drilling begins. A dentist in Larchmont, N.Y., reports that it quickly eases jittery patients, greatly reducing all signs of their nervousness. It works wonders with children too. They still don't like dentist drills, but they no longer react with those uncontrolled tantrums.

However, the best way to avoid dental jitters is to prevent tooth decay. The American Dental Association recommends a complete dental examination at least twice a year—and more often if you get cavities easily. During these check ups, be sure to have your teeth cleaned thoroughly.

Don't forget the brushing-after-each-meal routine. It is still one of the most effective ways to guard against dental trouble.

Freezing In Summer

Seven million Americans can't be wrong. That is the number of families who own and operate home freezer units, according to the latest survey, and they will be very busy in the coming months storing fresh fruit.

With modern scientific methods, homemakers are able to quick-freeze all summer-picked crops without fear of spoilage or flavor loss. They add ACM, a specially developed preservative which contains Vitamin C and citric acid—a must for all home freezer enthusiasts.

Housewives are discovering that fresh-frozen sliced peaches make one of the quickest, most practical and delicious desserts. Yet there is one catch—peaches are among the most delicate of fruits. They must be handled with the utmost care, and should be treasured and firm. Blue-ribbon canners always select peaches that can be eaten immediately—so don't ever take any that are green or over-ripe for freezing purposes.

To fix them, dip the peaches into boiling water for about half a minute to loosen the skin and then start peeling. Slice the peeled fruit into halves, remove the pits and then cut the peaches into the desired size—quarters, eighths, or what-have-you. Add one level teaspoon of ACM for each cup of sugar syrup. Each cup can treat two pounds of fruit. Slip the syrup-covered fruit into your freezer and the dessert is ready, months ahead of time.

Next winter when the trees are bare, your family will be able to eat peaches that taste like they have just been picked. That is why some seven million housewives will be freezing during the warm months ahead.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Watson returned home Tuesday after several days spent at Rochester, Minn.

High School Students Elect New Officers

Shortage of Strawberries for Mother's Day, But Plenty of Other Warm Weather Foods

Chicago—Convenience in the kitchen becomes the keynote as Chicago-area consumer buying habits veer noticeably to quicker, more easily prepared foods.

This change is attributed to warmer weather demand and is as marked as daylight saving time. Homemakers simply want to spend more time with their families out-of-doors in the extended daylight. So they tend toward "convenience" meats, such as steaks, and away from time-consuming roasts, for example.

This abrupt shift coupled with seasonal growing, shipment and carryover factors has the net result of stabilizing markets across the board.

The University of Illinois consumer service weekly value rating shows that (1) retailers are making price concessions for heavier meat items, especially beef chuck roasts, to make them more appealing; (2) increased volume and variety of fresh fruits and vegetables, and (3) heavier carryover stocks of canned foods to keep prices low and potentially lower with the new crop under way.

Specific values for the week ending May 11 include: Beef pot roast (slackened demand keeps prices down), steaks, fresh pork butt roast; large eggs, frying chickens, turkey; fresh strawberries, oranges, asparagus, frozen orange concentrate (ample fresh supplies versus record storage stocks), strawberries, peas.

Study Boating Laws

The Chain of Lakes Resort Owners Assn. met Tuesday evening and installed its new staff of officers headed by A. N. (Barney) Shunneson.

Legislation on boat operation and sanitation was discussed and Shunneson was delegated to go to Springfield yesterday to meet with legislatures on the proposed new laws.

Between 1955 and 1956, U. S. News and World Report states, the cost of machinery and tools to manufacturing companies increased an average of 7 per cent; hourly wage costs, with fringe benefits, increased 5.3 per cent; prices paid for materials and supplies increased 4.7 per cent, and the cost of industrial construction rose 4.4 per cent. Prices received for goods sold went up 2.8 per cent. By contrast, the margin of profit in manufacturing declined 2 per cent.

Illinois State News

All additional revenues coming to the State of Illinois from increases in hunting and fishing license fees, expected to top $1,250,000 annually, will be used for permanent conservation improvements, according to Director Glen D. Palmer of the Department of Conservation.

Land acquisition and development, new areas, of access to rivers and lakes, wildlife refuges and restoration of fish and wildlife were listed by Palmer as among the improvements planned.

Bills increasing the Illinois resident hunting license fee from $2 to $3 and the fishing fee from $1 to $2 have been signed by Governor William G. Stratton. The higher hunting license fee will go into effect for the 1957 fall shooting season; the fishing license increase will become effective Feb. 1, 1958.

A Special Day

Poppy Day should not mean just another fund drive or a tag day. It should be a very special day, a day to honor the dead and help the living veteran, hospitalized perhaps through all the years since the Wars, and a day when every man, woman and child wears a poppy as a personal tribute to those who sacrificed so much for us.

Antioch American Legion Auxiliary Unit No 748 Poppy Days will be Friday and Saturday, May 17 and 18. Wear a Poppy for Remem-

HEALTH TALK

Your Child Grows Up

All parents, at one time or another, have probably felt that the rearing of the child through adolescence is one of the most difficult and trying times. Yet this emergence from childhood into maturity is one of the most interesting of all human developments, the Educational Committee of the Illinois State Medical Society observes in Health Talk.

Actually the first signs of adolescence are changes in the attitude and behavior of the child. What was formerly a placid, happy and tractable child is now a resentful human being, showing frequently an open hostility to everything once cherished and loved. Compliance is replaced by opposition; eagerness to help and to learn is replaced by indifference. Independence is demanded in the matter of dress, dating, night out hours, use of cosmetics, and above all a release of accounting for one's time and friends.

Unkind parental discipline during this stage does one thing only—it just helps the parents deeper and deeper into the so-called "dog house."

The pattern of adolescent changes is not fixed. The child reverts back and forth from the open demand for independence to the juvenile need of submission, dependence and craving for affection.

Wise is the parent who understands this vacillation in the child and stands by with tolerance, acceptance and above all humor. Youngsters will be different and decisions should be handled on an individual basis. The child must be protected from his own not infrequent impulses to indiscretions and excesses, and efforts made to establish a firm and happy parent-child relationship. And with this understanding parents can find this "trying period" to be a profitable and vital one for themselves.

Many groups have individually or collectively evolved specific programs for guiding the child through adolescence. Educators, the clergy, police officials and psychologists have all contributed to the perfect program, yielding valuable information, but in many ways, creating chaos out of existing confusion.

Parents are the key people, for it is they who must acquire a deep understanding of the child from infancy on to take him through his adolescent stage. A parent cannot allow all of the care to be turned over to organized groups, nor can he allow the child to rule himself, his home and his parents. The adolescent must be taught responsibility. The tendency to let the adolescent "take over" is to be condemned, if the child is to grow to a mature adult.

Too much laxity in controlling the child's new demand for freedom, too little guidance and understanding, and too little natural insistence for respect can create a barrier never to be overcome between the parent and child.

On the other hand a clear understanding of the emotional change and a well managed program of handling the problems posed by the adolescent can result in a happy family relationship. This can be achieved by the parent too through the cooperation of the schools, religious groups and other progressive community organizations. Thus inspired, the child will emerge from the period of adolescence into a well adjusted adult, emotionally fit and ready for life's grown up outlook.

Sewage treatment for April was 5,700,000 gallons.

Ghana Was Named For Ancient African Empire

WASHINGTON—Ghana, the world's newest nation, takes its name from a mighty African empire that flourished for some 800 years before Europeans came to the Dark Continent.

Although the new state is not situated within the ancient borders of Ghana, the tribesmen of the former Gold Coast Colony trace their ancestry to Ghanaian refugees who were driven to the coast by 9th-century Moslem invaders.

Portuguese traders bestowed the name Gold Coast on a narrow strip of land on the underside of Africa's hump just north of the Equator. Later the name was extended to a rectangular area stretching some 330 miles along the coast and 400 miles into the interior. Thus the former colony's boundaries embrace the Gold Coast proper as well as Ashanti, British Togoland, and the Northern Territories.

Ghana, approximately twice the size of the state of Mississippi, has a population of 4,500,000; all but 7,000 are Africans. Accra, the capital, is a European-type city of 130,000 residents.

Ghana's Prime Minister, Kwame Nkrumah, who was educated in the United States and England, has worked hard to raise the living standards of his countrymen. In the past five years alone, the number of schools has tripled.

However, Ashanti and the Northern Territories, still in the grip of old tribal customs, have resisted modernization. Most of Nkrumah's political opposition is centered there. The chiefs fear that a strong central government will infringe upon their prerogatives.

Diseases Caused Fewer Deaths in '56

NEW YORK—All-time low death rates were recorded in 1956 for tuberculosis, maternity, the childhood disease, suicide, and homicide, the statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company report on the basis of the experience among the company's industrial policyholders.

In addition, the poliomyelitis death rate among these insured dropped to half that for 1955—or to only .3 per 100,000. This reduction in mortality paralleled the drop in the number of cases of the disease reported in the general population of the United States. In 1956 there were 15,400 such cases reported in the country, a 47 per cent decrease from the 29,270 cases in 1955. The immunization program is credited for part of this decrease.

Mortality from all causes among industrial policyholders continued at the record low level of the two preceding years. The death rate for all ages combined was 6.2 per 1,000 in each of the last three years, compared with 6.5 in each of the three years 1951-53.

Down-South Folks Partial to Catsup

CHICAGO—Southerners like catsup more than anyone.

This bit of miscellany turned up in a survey on consumer reactions to new twist-off caps for glass-packed foods.

The cap-producers wanted as much information on catsup consumption habits as it could get so it had an independent marketing research service canvass families from coast to coast. One of the questions asked was, "How many bottles of catsup do you purchase every month?"

Eighty-one per cent of families in the South used at least one bottle a month. In the East, 78 per cent used at least one a month, in the central states, 75 per cent, and in the Pacific states, 68 per cent.

Scientists Studying Psychology of Yoga

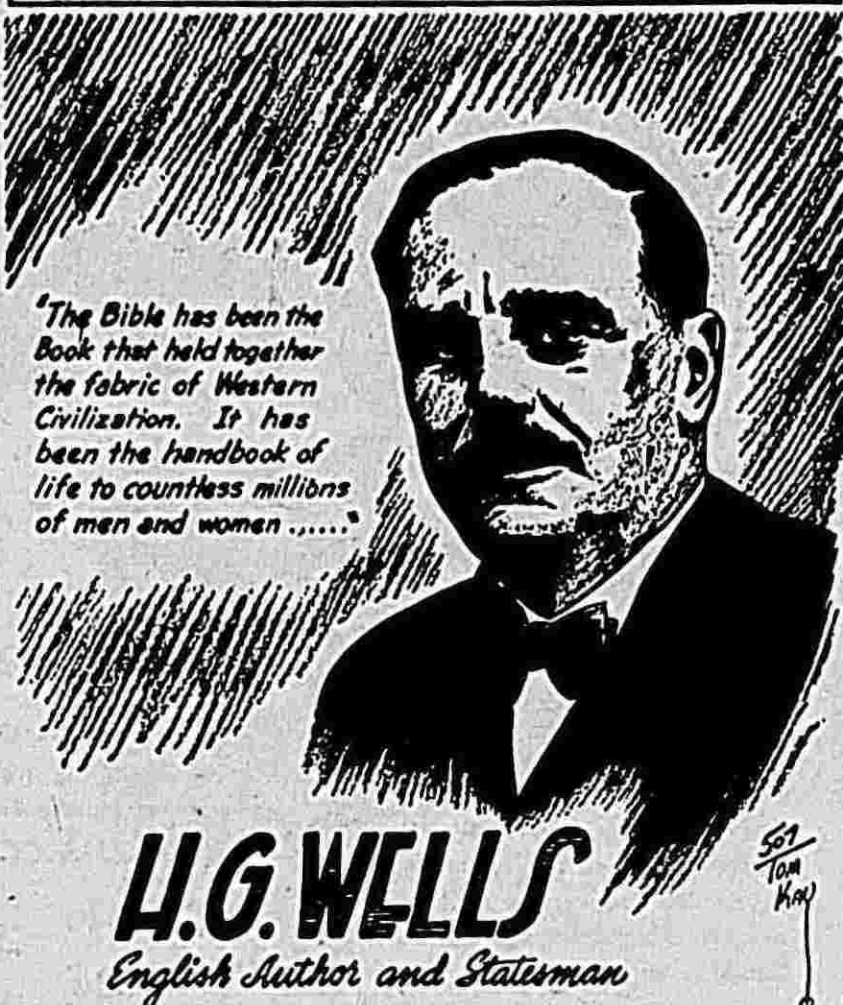

LOS ANGELES—Is there a third "state of mind"—so-called suspended animation? Can a human being actually shut off a portion of his brain, or numb normal cellular functions at will so that he feels no pain?

These are questions Dr. Marion Wegner of Los Angeles and Dr. B. K. Bagschi, brain wave expert from the University of Michigan, are seeking to answer in a six-month study of the psychology of yoga in India.

Using a 78-pound transistor machine especially constructed for the project, Dr. Wegner and Dr. Bagschi will do research with the Indian mystic men on control of the central nervous system and involuntary responses such as heart action.

Hypnosis May Solve Special Anesthetic Needs

CHICAGO — Hypnosis, not now recommended for general use as an anesthetic, may solve some special anesthetic problems, according to three Dallas researchers who have used it in several unusual cases.

They reported using hypnosis for delivery of a baby when the mother was a polio victim, for a dental procedure in a woman sensitive to chemical anesthetics, and in three other special cases. They reported their cases in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

They said they have been investigating hypnosis for anesthesia for three years, and have found it useful under these special conditions:

1) when a chemical anesthesia or depressants may be dangerous because of respiratory or heart disease; 2) when a patient is sensitive to regular chemical agents; 3) when repeated use of anesthetics weakens a patient who is already physically disturbed; 4) among patients whose fear of general anesthesia is so great it presents serious risks; 5) when the cooperation of the patient may be needed during surgery; and 6) when the procedure may be so lengthy that the general anesthesia may be too weakening.

Use of hypnosis presented no difficulty in the delivery of a pregnant woman suffering polio, or in several dental procedures, lasting about two hours each—in a woman who suffered swelling of the face and body, hives, and nausea from general anesthesia.

Bows Were Better Than Early Musket

WASHINGTON — The American Revolution might have been fought — on the side of the colonies — with bows and arrows.

They still were better weapons, in some respects, than the available muskets of the day—as emphasized by Benjamin Franklin in a 1776 letter to Gen. Charles Lee, who then was engaged in fortifying the port of New York.

"These were good weapons, not lightly laid aside: Because a man may shoot as truly with a bow as with a common musket. He can discharge four arrows in the time of charging and discharging one bullet. His object is not taken from his view by the smoke of his own side. A flight of arrows seen coming upon them terrifies and disturbs the enemies attention to their business. An arrow striking in any part of a man puts him hors-du-bombat till it is extracted. Bows and arrows were more easily provided everywhere than muskets and ammunition."

This is cited by Col. Berkeley R. Lewis, of the Frankfort Arsenal, Philadelphia, in a comprehensive treatise on small arms and ammunition, especially as used in the United States military service.

Marble Games Sure Sign of True Spring

WASHINGTON — It hardly seems like spring until small fry knuckle down to a game of ringer.

This, of course, is the traditional game played with marbles. Depending on local jargon, the player takes a highly prized shooter, taw, glassie, or stoney to knock common marbles—commies, milbs, or ducks—from the ring. Knuckles must touch the ground.

Time obscures the origin of marbles. Youngsters in ancient Egypt, Greece, and Rome tawed just as purposefully as today's boys and girls in T-shirts and blue jeans. The Latin expression relinquere nubes—in effect, "putting away childish things"—probably refers to a form of marbles that Roman children played with nuts.

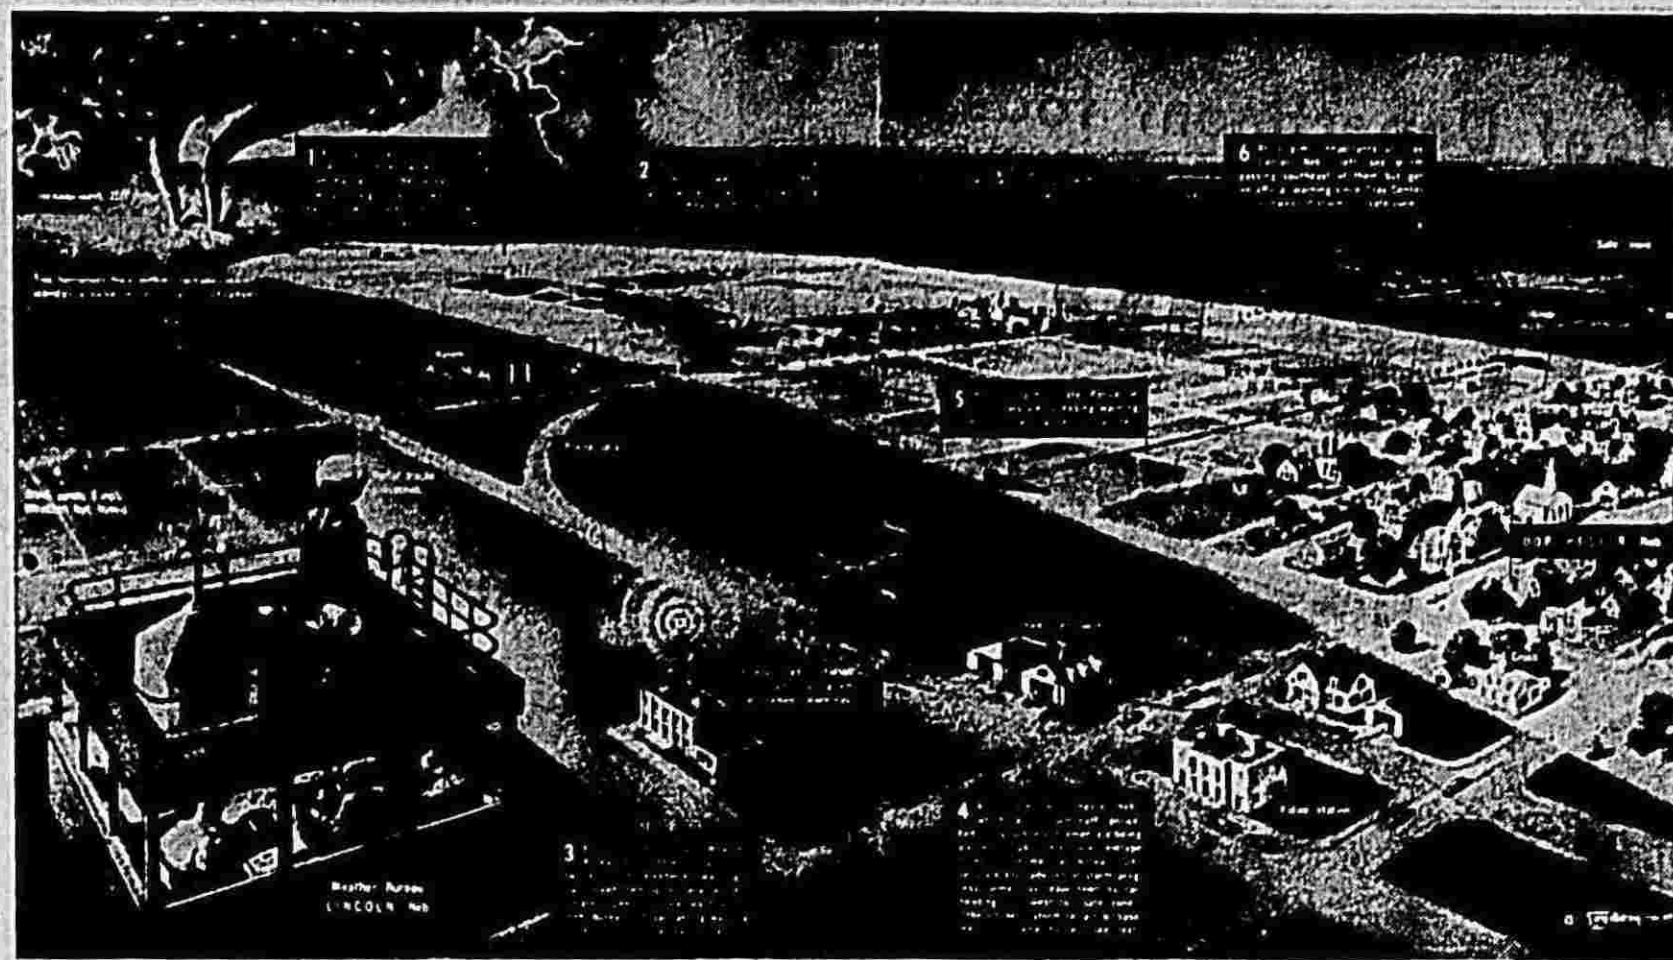

In years gone by, the small spheres of many colors have been made of many substances: marble chips (hence the game's name); alabaster (alleys); prettily banded agate (aggles); painted and glazed clay (clayys); and colored glass.

Exhibit Tells Story Of Early Telephones

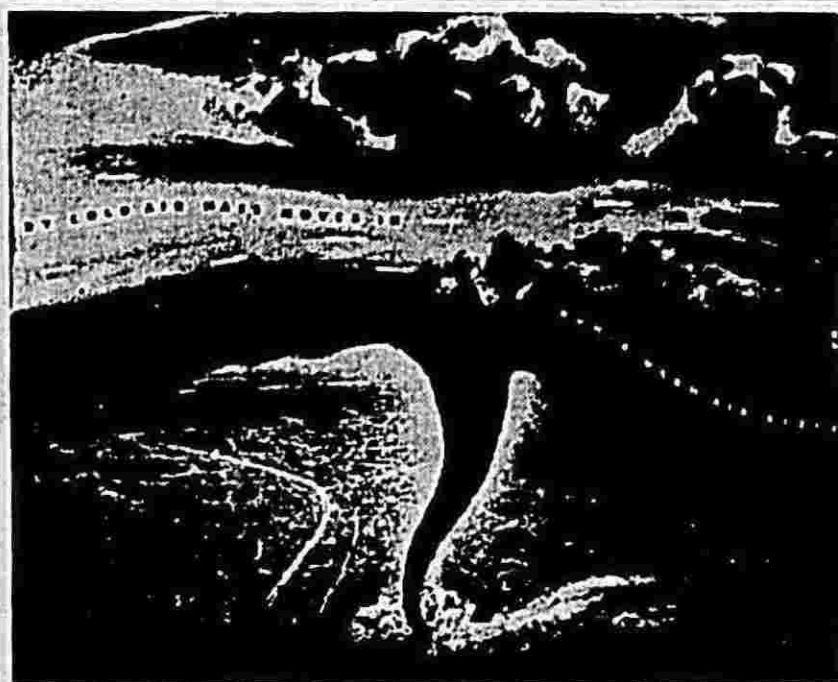

WASHINGTON — An exhibit telling the story of the telephone has been opened at the Smithsonian Institution.

Planned by the staff of the Institution and Bell Telephone Laboratories, the exhibit was presented by the telephone industries of the United States. Beginning with the "Galvanic music" with which Charles G. Page of Massachusetts startled the learned world in 1837 the story is carried through the most recent applications to telephony of electronic devices.

Hawaiian Anthem
HONOLULU — Hawaii, though a territory of the United States, has its own national anthem, a stately melody entitled "Hawaii Panoi" (My Own Hawaii).

TORNADO WARNING In time can spell the difference between heavy loss of life and light casualties when the twisters sweep into populated areas. Under the experimental Weather Bureau program for tornado tracking by radar and telephoned visual reports, adequate warning could be broadcast so that local civil defense, police and firemen could evacuate residents or advise them to seek cover in basements. This drawing shows how such a warning station at Lincoln, Neb., might alert the inhabitants of Dorchester, Neb., in the expected path of a twister. The twin funnels are an unusual phenomenon—most tornadoes occur singly. (Courtesy A. Leydenroth)

BIRTH OF A TORNADO occurs when a cold and a warm air mass collide, and the heavier cold air is deflected above the lighter warm air. In this topey-turvy situation, a tongue of cold air dips into the warm air, which in turn moves upward to fill the void thus created. As the warm air rushes upward in a spiral motion, other warm air is sucked upward from lower levels, until the ground is reached. The funnel is made visible by condensing moist air, dirt and debris. As the twister leaves its trail, Red Cross, civil defense and other public services rush in to care for victims, while the Federal Civil Defense Administration stands ready with financial aid to assist in temporary repair of devastated public facilities in a major disaster. (Courtesy A. Leydenroth and the New York Times Magazine)

TYPICAL TORNADO funnel sweeps across the plains near Manhattan, Kan., located in the worst tornado belt in the world, according to Weather Bureau records. Twisters such as this have figured prominently in the total of 75 major natural disasters in which the Federal Civil Defense Administration has directed relief since FCDA got the job of coordinating Federal assistance in January 1953. (U. S. Weather Photo by H. E. Dale)

What To Do In a Tornado

- People in open country can view the approach of a storm and move at right angles to its path. If there is no time to escape, lie flat in the nearest depression, such as a ditch or ravine.
- In towns or cities, seek shelter inside, preferably in a substantial building. Stay away from windows.
- The southwest corner of the basement of a frame house is safer than in a brick or stone house. If there is no basement, lie down on the first floor under a table or bed (preferably in the southwest corner).
- Urban schools: Stay inside, away from windows; remain near an inside wall on a lower floor. Avoid auditoriums and gymnasiums.
- Rural schools of frame construction: Teachers should remove children to a ravine or ditch if storm shelter is not available.

Ancient Worms Have Clung to Sea Bottom

WASHINGTON—About 350,000 years ago shallow sea bottoms teemed with "shelled worms."

Called brachiopods, they were perhaps the most abundant animals on the planet. The dry land probably still was almost devoid of life during this Ordovician period, the second major division of geological time since higher animals first appeared on earth.

These "worms"—actually they constitute a very distinct phylum in zoological classification—have persisted to the present although they are now greatly reduced in numbers and species.

The brachiopod has two shells and attaches itself to some object on the sea bottom by a stalk protruding from a large shell. Through the ages the sea bottom mud, with the shell remains of these animals, was compressed into rock, and in geological upheavals this rock has been elevated into mountains. The shells of the brachiopods thus incorporated into this rock are conspicuous fossils today, and are of considerable value to geologists in dating rock sequences.

In many cases the shells that occur in limestone have become coated with or replaced by silica. When these rocks are placed in hydrochloric acid, the lime is eaten away but the silicified shells remain. Years of highly skilled labor would be required to chip out of the rock fossils which are recovered in a few days from the acid bath.

Car Crash Project Seeks Safety Aids

LOS ANGELES — A new automobile crash injury project, which may help save up to 20,000 lives a year, is being initiated at the University of California.

The project, part of the long-term collision research of the Institute of Transportation and Traffic Engineering, is being supported by the Air Research and Development Command, U. S. Air Force.

Twenty-five automobiles will be deliberately crashed in head-on barrier-type collisions at speeds up to 50 miles an hour. Specially designed guide tracks and remote control devices will be used to assure that the test cars have a precision collision with one another or with the fixed barrier.

Purpose of the study is to determine engineering and physiological information from which automobile design and construction revisions to reduce injuries may be developed.

More than 40,000 people are killed each year in automobile accidents. Experts say that half of these deaths could be prevented using safety measures already developed and other features under study.

Elephant Seals Make Record Comeback

LA JOLLA, Calif.—The population of elephant seals on Guadalupe Island, 120 miles off the west coast of Baja California, has reached a record high of almost 6,000 according to Carl L. Hubbs, professor of marine biology at the University of California's Scripps Institution of Oceanography.

Once hunted near extinction, the species is now protected by Mexican law. In 1900 less than 100 were noted on the island. In 1950 Hubbs and George A. Bartholomew, Jr., associate professor of marine zoology, University of California, Los Angeles, found 4,500 there.

Hubbs' tally of 6,000 is a preliminary figure based on a survey of the island made in February. The final total will be reached when all the photographs taken are studied.

Hubbs and his party captured a 1,920-pound male and a 660-pound female for the San Diego Zoo. Adult males can reach a length of over 20 feet, a weight of eight tons.

First Class From Unique University

NEW YORK—A joint educational enterprise sponsored and supported by Christians in Japan and North America graduated its first class recently.

It is the International Christian University near Tokyo, which is underwritten by fourteen major Protestant denominations in the United States and Canada.

Since 1949 the cooperation religious bodies have contributed about $5,000,000 for the establishment and development of this educational project. Their combined church membership totals more than 25,000,000 people.

Longest Living

WASHINGTON—Of all the countries that lay claim to individuals 100 years old or more, the nation that boasts the highest average longevity is The Netherlands. Average life expectancy for a woman: 72.9 years; for a man, 70.6.

THE AMERICAN WAY

Pity the Poor Congress!

According to Senator Byrd of Virginia, "There is not a department of this government that can't be cut by 5 to 10 per cent and still function in an effective way—except for those items that are fixed by their cost."

Since November 12, 1951, more than 65 million passengers have traveled a total of nearly 40 billion miles in Pullman cars without suffering a fatality. In the same period more than 190,000 people have died in highway accidents.

Henry Hazlitt writes in Newsweek: "Marx had a genius for destruction. He knew that capitalism could not long survive a system of confiscatory taxes which dry up incentives and the sources of private capital accumulation and investment."

The country's independent power and light companies now pay an average of almost 24 cents out of each dollar of revenues in taxes, to the federal, state and local governments.

Not one of the smaller cars can measure up to Pontiac Performance. Whether you judge a power plant by engineering statistics or on-the-road performance, Pontiac's Strato-Streak V-8 stands head and shoulders above anything in the low-price field. Your Pontiac dealer will be happy to show you a complete facts-and-figures comparison—then an eye-opening test drive in traffic or out on the highway will supply all the heart-lifting proof you need that Pontiac has separated the men from the boys when it comes to performance!

—AND PONTIAC HAS ALWAYS BEEN FAMOUS AS ONE OF AMERICA'S TOP TRADE-INS!

Maybe it comes as a surprise to you that so much more car can be yours at the same price you've seen on the smaller cars. But there's the fact! And Pontiac is a wonderful investment, too! As you know, it has always commanded a top trade-in. So why not step out of the small-car class and into a Pontiac... there's nothing in your way. Your Pontiac dealer has the keys and an eye-opening offer waiting for you right now!

So why not look and feel like a million—instead of a million others?

Auxiliary News

Auxiliary Poppy Days

The Antioch Unit No. 748, American Legion Auxiliary, will distribute poppies this year on Friday and Saturday, May 17 and 18, announces Mrs. Corrine Carlucci, Unit Poppy chairman. "Every American Legion Auxiliary member who is able to serve, has enrolled for Poppy Day duty. We are also happy to receive volunteers from other women's organizations, who realize that the debt we owe for the freedom we know, calls for repayment in everyday service. The women of our city are giving a patriotic response to the American Legion Auxiliary's call for Poppy Day workers," Mrs. Carlucci said.

The poppies which will be worn here in Antioch have been made by disabled veterans of two World Wars and the Korean conflict in Illinois hospitals, where the occupational therapy department recognizes the poppy work as having high therapeutic value for the patient and as beneficial employment. According to Mrs. Vera Horton, president of Unit No. 748, approximately 10,000 disabled veterans in the State of Illinois have been busily engaged in preparing poppies for sale on Poppy Day.

"The eagerness of these men to help themselves and their families by earning money rather than to depend on charitable donations awakens the highest admiration," Mrs. Horton continued. "The Memorial poppies are replicas of the European poppy which grew in profusion on the battlefields of France and Belgium and has become the flower of remembrance for the men who poured out their life's blood around the roots of the little plant. Wearing the little red flower on Poppy Day has come to mean honoring the dead and helping the living. The contributions made on Poppy Day not only pay the disabled veterans who shape the little red flower, but forms the chief source of support for the vast Rehabilitation and Child Welfare programs of the American Legion Auxiliary," she said.

"We Honor the Dead by Serving the Living"—Auxiliary prayer for May:

"Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for the peace that is ours today. We thank Thee for Thy gracious goodness to us in time of grief, and for Thy abiding love in times of distress. May we remember with reverence the valor of all our departed heroes who rest here in America; those who rest on foreign soil where the poppies bloom, and those whose resting place is known but to Thee. Teach us to honor the dead by our continuous service to the living. May we strive to cherish the ideals of true Americanism for which they gave their last full measure of devotion. As the wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of those who served in war distribute the memorial poppies for all to wear on Poppy Day, may we be reminded of the ideals for which our war dead gave their lives. Grant that we may carefully guard the funds contributed on Poppy Day so that we may help rehabilitate those who still live and for whom the wars have not ended. Amen."

MAJOR TORNADOES of 1956, as compiled from preliminary Weather Bureau data, clearly point to Spring as a time for special watchfulness by residents of the central United States—the world's most dangerous tornado area. Civil defense units are on special call throughout this vast region for possible rescue work. In addition, if a tornado-hit locality is declared a major disaster area by the President, as happened in Numbers 1, 3, 6, and 10 above, the Federal Civil Defense Administration can provide funds to aid communities in temporary repair of public facilities. (FCDA Photo)

ERRATIC TRAIL left by the twister which hit Flint, Mich., on May 12, 1956 is typical of tornadoes as the funnel weaves and bobs over the landscape, generally in a southwest to northeast direction. Civil defense rescue squads, trained to dig persons out of bombed-out buildings in wartime, find their training equally useful in this type of disaster. (Flint Journal Photo by Russ Scott)

Be still, and know that I am God... (Psalm 46, 10). Often, when we feel that we have "lost touch" with Our Heavenly Father, it may be that we have been talking to Him too much—telling Him what we want—beseeching His mercy and His love, when all we have to do to receive is to be silent, and listen.
